210 Delegates From 44 Schools Come Here for Poverty Confab

by Ron Goldwyn

• THE 210 DELEGATES from 44 schools attending last week's Intercollegiate Conference on Poverty in America at the University heard the experts describe two conflicting battle plans to fight the war on poverty.

Keynote speaker Oscar Ornati, author of a recent report for the Pockets of Poverty Committee, said Friday the business cycle is a "middle class phenomenon" and poverty will not be ended by "an increase in the Gross National Product." Ornati, an economics professor at the New School for Social Research, added dryly that by describing poverty as "social, not economic," he has "almost worked himself out of a job."

Ornati said that the amount of hard-core poverty did not go down appreciably during the post-World War II prosperity, nor did it increase during the recession of the late 1950's.

He said the problem of poverty could not be separated from the Negro's drive for civil rights because so many Negroes are impoverished. "The risk for a Negro to be poor in 1960 was higher than in 1947," he said. Up to three-fourths of all Negroes face the risk of poverty, he said.

Ornati praised President Johnson's anti-poverty bill now before Congress.

"The marginal shift (of current legislation) is a large one, not a small one, and any economist knows that the important dollar is the marginal dollar," he said.

Leon Keyserling, economic advisor to President Truman, disagreed during his talk at Lisner Auditorium, Saturday.

"Poverty hits all groups," he said. "It is basically a by-product of the functioning of the entire

May Day, Colonial Cruise To Celebrate Spring Fling

• FREE BEER AND soft drinks are the new innovations for this year's Colonial Cruise. And Cruise Chairman Teddy Manousakis has ordered 3000 pounds of ice to keep it COLD.

The new beverage plan is in response to the refusal of the Wilson Line to allow University students to bring alcoholic beverages on the cruise boat.

The Wilson Line's George Washington is set to leave its N St. and Maine Ave. SW terminal at 2 pm, Saturday, May 2 with a full load of University students. The boat, drifting leisurely down the Potomac will arrive at Marshall Hall at 3:30.

The Footnotes will provide a generous supply of songs, merriment, and dancing on the boat and at Marshall Hall.

Marshall Hall offers an afternoon and evening of picnics, drinks, and amusement park merry-making. And, of course, the surrounding woods will provide scenic beauty for nature lovers.

Returning boats will leave Marshall Hall at 5:15 and 10:30. Chairman Manousakis said "tickets will be $6 per couple or $3.50 for single. Two dollars is for the boat ride and the other dollar is for all the beer and soft drinks you want. This year's cruise will cost individual students considerably less than those in previous years."

Starting off the week end, May Day Friday, at 8:30 in Lisner will have a "Carnival in Rio" theme and will combine All-University Follies with tappings for ODK, Mortar Board, and other honoraries. Next year's CHERRY TREE, POTOMAC, and HATCHET editors will be announced.

May Day traditionally honors members of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The queen will be chosen from among four finalists, Kate Avery, Sherri Peterson, Mimi Sass, and Jill Warren.

Royer Proposes New Senate Plan

by Lee Deschamps

• THE HIGHLIGHT OF Wednesday night's Student Council meeting occurred when Advocate Steve Royer introduced a plan which would abolish the current Articles of Student Government for a "Student Senate."

No formal action was taken on the plan by the Council. Each Council member was given a copy of the plan, which will be taken up by the Council this week.

Under the proposed plan, according to Royer, there would be approximately 40 "senators," including three each from the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes to be elected on an at-large basis. In addition to these, there would be representatives from "each dormitory, the fraternities and sororities, and the commuters who shall be divided into three geographical sections; Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Virginia."

Representation would be based on the population of each of the above groups, with one senator for each district of 224 population or less and one additional senator for each additional 150 residents up to a total of six senators for any district having more than 824 residents.

Royer maintained that the benefits of his system are two-fold: First, government would be composed of more people to meet the complex problems of student government who would be better able to take care of the work load. Secondly, the proposed system is capable of growing with the University.

"The Senate shall elect from within its own body the following officers: a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer." The proposal states the individual student consequently would have little to say about these officers, except in so far as the vote of their individual representative counts in the determination of these officers.

Theoretically, a student could be represented by different senators. A student living in one of the dormitories and belonging to one of the Greek organizations would be allowed to vote for each of the following: three senators from the class; six senators to represent the Greeks; and from one to six senators from that persons dormitory, depending on the size of the dorm.

Theoretically, therefore, one person may be able to vote for as many as 15 Senators. An independent student, on the other hand, living at home or in an apartment, could vote for up to six senators for the district in which he lives, and three senators for the class to which he belongs, for a maximum of nine.

Another area covered by the proposed system is the Activities Fee. Under Article V of the proposed by-laws, the following paragraph appears: "The Student Senate shall have the power to levy an activities fee with the advice and consent of the Board of Trustees of the George Washington University." This article appears in the constitution rather than by-laws in the printed proposal, but Royer called this a typographical error.

One of the paragraphs under the section of Article Five dealing with the appropriations by the Senate of the money collected from the Activities Fee, reads as follows: "Tuition of senatorial offices shall be paid from the Student Activities Fee Fund."

Under the proposal plan, by-laws on initiative and referendum provide that no question can be placed on a referendum ballot by the student unless it is presented to the president of the Student Senate in the form of a "petition signed by at least 25 percent of the student body."

Whether this is the entire student body or only that part of it composed of full-time students is not clear, but even if it is the latter, an enrollment of 4,000 full-time students would necessitate a petition signed by 1,000 students. Even assuming that a petition of 1,000 students could be obtained, the referendum question would be deemed only "upon a two-thirds majority vote of the entire vote when at least 50 percent of the student body votes. This process may be done in all types of legislation except that legislation which would require a change in the Student Activities Fee."—Article XVI, Section 2.

Again, assuming there will be about 4,000 full-time students, a referendum would only be passed

Editorials Really, Now

• THE PROBLEMS WHICH exist in Student Government are the result of its membership and not its structure. If Council members would put even a fraction of the time being spent on proposals to reorganize into the execution of their duties the Council would not need even to consider reorganization.

However, assuming for the sake of argument that the Council did need a new structure, Steve Royer's Student Senate proposal could not by any stretch of the imagination be the answer. Rather than decentralize power and make the government more representative, it would strengthen the power groups and make simple the creation of a not-too-well disguised dictatorship. Rather than simplify operations for the participants, who are theoretically here primarily for an education and only secondarily to spend time in student activities, the proposal would make things ridiculously complex.

The proposal does not warrant a point-by-point breakdown of its faults although this would be easy to do. And there are enough blatantly obvious fallacies in the organization to remove the necessity of digging into the more subtle ones. Among the proposal's many weaknesses are the following:

- Its breakdown into constituencies gives a larger representation to Greeks than independents, though according to Royer the purpose of the breakdown is to broaden the base of representation and give independents a larger voice in student affairs.

- The organization is terribly complex and would require too much time in mere paper work for the perpetuation of the system that could be spent in planning new and worthwhile programs for the benefit of the student body.

- Too much power is given to the Senate. Because initiative and referendum provisions are prohibitively restricting to begin with, and because they are included not in the constitution where they belong but in the by-laws, where they can be removed or altered at any time by the Senate itself, power is virtually removed from the student body.

Add to this the fact that the president, who has an unprecedented amount of power, being authorized to appoint any number of members to the standing committees, is not representative of the electorate but chosen by the Senate from its membership. Then consider the vagueness of the wording of so many of the provisions, creating planned or accidental loopholes, and you find a self-perpetuating power machine.

- The proposals which are most likely to draw protest are those dealing with finances. The Senate would have the power to levy an activities fee, and from this fee would come the salaries for "such administrative assistance as the Senate deems necessary" and a "paid non-member Senate reporter." Both positions made necessary by the mere mechanics of the Senate, such as the need to reapportion the residential areas each year. Most questionable of all the financial proposals is asking the student body to pay, from the fee which the Senate would levy against it, the tuition of officers it did not pick.

It is commendable that Royer is so concerned with student activities that he would spend all the time it took to get out his proposal. We wish he had spent a little more time, however, in cleaning up at least the most obvious of the weaknesses.

Royer's plan is shot through with contradictions, non sequiturs, and unrealistic proposals. We hope that each Council member will take the time to study the plan thoroughly. If they do they will most certainly reject it.

A Good Thing

WITH THE POVERTY CONFERENCE the University has shown that it can organize itself and successfully conduct an Intercollegiate conference. This fact has gained recognition from the participating students, their respective colleges, and the White House.

Over 200 students from over 40 eastern and southern colleges and universities were housed, fed, and organized on our campus. This should provide the encouragement for other conferences to be held here, in Washington, a natural center for meetings of this nature.

The timing of this event was no less than amazing. No sooner had the Student Council approved the conference than President Johnson had launched his "war on poverty." This bit of "luck" helped make this first such conference in recent years a success, the HATCHET feels that additional conferences would be beneficial to students, and the university.

Poverty Conference

economy. When the economy grows by a large amount, as in World War II, everyone gets jobs and unemployment falls.

Keyserling said retraining is secondary. "You must know what you are retraining them for."

"Seventy-five percent of the training problem in American life is training on the job after you get there," he said.

Keyserling said the Federal government should take the leadership in the poverty fight through massive housing, urban renewal, construction, education and other programs; through policy changes in the Federal Reserve system to expand money supply and credit, and by revising tax bases to favor low-income groups.

He said cost should not be an object. "In a war, you don't ask 'how much will it cost?' but 'do we have the resources?'" Keyserling said. He said the United States does have them.

Throughout these two talks and others, most delegates took careful notes and a few asked complex, thoughtful questions.

Apparently foregoing the frills of a weekend in Washington, delegates went straight to their dormitory rooms and residences after Friday night's session broke up at 11 o'clock. Most stuck it out for a grueling Saturday schedule that included two movies, two workshops, a luncheon lecture, the Keyserling speech and reaction seminars.

Coordinator Edward Knappman called the conference a "success." He said it had a more impressive list of speakers than many of the other poverty conferences held on various campuses since President Johnson declared his "War on Poverty" last year.

The speakers' list included Christopher Jencks, editor of New Republic; Jesse Gray, leader of the New York City rent strikes; Hyman Bookbinder, head of the Presidential task force on poverty; David Bazelon, author of The Paper Economy; and Dr. Edward Gottlieb, New York City high school principal who has led the movement for integrated schools there.

Rep. Henry Gonzalez (D, Texas) was scheduled to speak Friday night but was "called home for an emergency political fence mending trip," Knappman told the delegates with a grin.

Although Student Council President Vic Clark opened the conference with the official welcoming address, school and student leaders took little part in the three day gathering. Knappman pointed out that few if any faculty, and administration members attended the sessions.

Knappman said the financial backing for the conference came from union and church groups. He named the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, Local 66 of the International Ladies Garment Workers, Westminster Foundation of the Synod of the Chesapeake, the United Auto Workers, and the United Campus Christian Ministry.

Delegates travelled from as far as Emory University, Atlanta, Northwestern University, and the U. S. Military Academy. Western Illinois U. sent 10 delegates, part of a bus-load of 50 students who junketed to Washington for the weekend.

Letter

Exorbitant . . .

To the Editors:

The George Washington University is not able to justify its tuition increase with Dr. Carroll's words, "... the only alternative to a tuition increase would be a reduction in the quality of the University's academic program." It is obvious that a class of 150 students who find it impossible to hear the lecturer, much less converse with him face to face, has already suffered the mentioned "reduction in quality."

The semester price tag now attached to an undergraduate's full load of twelve or more hours is so exorbitant as to make me extremely reluctant to recommend GW to potential incoming freshmen. This attitude is one that could very easily plague future alumni, myself included.

If the University wishes to branch out into wide and diverse fields of endeavor that is fine. It may be that the administration feels that the education of undergraduates is of subordinate value.

The George Washington University does not now provide educational opportunity concomitant to the tuition rates now in existence. The announced tuition increase is completely unjustifiable on grounds of legal quality. This quality is already below national norms.

• OVER 250 GIRLS representing 13 sororities competed in the 7th Annual Sigma Chi Derby Day, held at Bon Air Park in Arlington last Saturday. Delta Gamma, the victors four out of the last five years, again carried home the winning trophy. Zeta Tau Alpha and Chi Omega finished second and third respectively in slapstick-athletic event competition, which was hard fought until the final results were announced.

Pamela Gay, representing Chi Omega sorority, finished first in the bathing suit competition and became "Miss Venus" of the 1964 Derby Day. Barbara Commack finished second representing Delta Gamma, and Gail Aronson of Sigma Delta Tau placed third out of 13 contestants. The Miss Venus contest was judged by Col. Riser, commander of the University's ROTC flight, and Dr. Paul Bissell, dean of men.

Over 100 spectators watched the serious-minded greek women participate in "Crew race" in which the relentless girls raced around in wagons pulling their sisters. In another event, "smog," the competing teams of three girls took turns smoking cigars in a relay race.

Highlighting the afternoon was "noisemaker" in which blindfolded girls were supplied with noisemakers and placed at opposite ends of the field; they then were told to find their sister who was making the same noise.

Before the actual events were under way each sorority entertained the judges and the crowd with short skits which ranged from Cleopatra, to Howdy Doody, to Rocket J. Squirrel, all appropriate to the theme, "Shows, of TV and Movies."

When the results of the events were announced The Delta Gammas had accumulated 118 points, the Zetas 101, and the Chi O's had tallied 76½.

Following the events at Bon Air Park, the fraternities held their annual keg-killing contest behind the Sigma Chi House with Pi Kappa Alpha finishing first.

The senator, who holds a Ph.D. from Columbia, was a professor of economics at the University of Chicago before he entered politics. The senior senator from Illinois is presently chairman of the Joint Committee on Economics and also chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Finance.

The meeting is open to all area YD clubs, as well as non-members from this University.

'Mural Mirror

• SIGMA NU CONTINUED its unbeaten string in "B" League softball last week with another double victory.

Opening up a formidable margin early in its game, SN saw its 12-2 lead whittled down, but still held on to take the game, 12-8. Most of the winners' runs came on a combination of walks and sloppy PSD fielding. The winning pitcher was Dave Zell. Joel Shulman was the loser.

In its second game of the afternoon, SN blasted SAE, 19-9, with a 10-run barrage in the top of the sixth inning. The winners hit three homers in that inning alone to take the contest. Once again the winning pitcher was Dave Zell.

TEP defeated SAE, 8-3, behind an extremely well-balanced offensive attack, featuring a large number of singles. Al Buchner was the winning pitcher.

In its second game of the day, however, TEP was defeated by PSD. The winners jumped out to a 3-0 lead, as winning pitcher, Joel Shulman hurled no-hit ball for the first three innings. However, TEP narrowed the margin to 4-3 in the fourth inning. But an insurance run by PSD and another good inning by Shulman clinched the victory. Al Levine and Nolan Dan-chik each had two-run singles for the winners.

In other "B" League games, SX and AEPI split a doubleheader, SX losing the first, 7-4, and then gaining revenge by trouncing the Apes, 17-1, in the second game.

Los Latinos took a doubleheader from SPE, 7-6, and 4-3.

The "A" League, rained out two weeks ago, finally began its schedule last week.

Med J & S defeated Law, 7-1, greatly aided by Burt Belsky's bases-loaded single in the first inning and two-run triple in the third.

AEPI defeated SPE in a wild slugfest, 24-7. The winning pitcher was Buddy Levis, who was relieved in the fifth by Jack Goldberg.

Delts eked out a victory over TEP, 4-3, scoring two runs in the bottom of the third to win. Jim Fisen den was the winning pitcher.

SX took both ends of a double-header by beating the Med Sophs, 9-0, and Med J & S, 8-7.

In the finals of the badminton tournament held last week, Montavon of Delts beat Bawa of the Engineering school. Montavon won in straight games by nipping Bawa by a 15-13 score in each.

The intramural track meet has been rescheduled, and will be held on May 3 at Western High School.

JULIAN BREAM

guitar on campus

That charming Englishman, Julian Bream is here! One side of his latest album has Rodrigo's melodic "Concierto de Aranjuez," a Spanish work in the folk idiom with chamber orchestra and Bream as guitar soloist. The other side stars Bream as luteist in his own setting of the "Courtly Dances" from Britten's opera "Gloriana," as well as Bream's own edition of Vivaldi's "Concerto for Lute and Strings." Fresh, bright! As full of life as Spring itself!

A Freudian Analysis of the Remington Lektronic II

It's a mature shaver. There's no unnatural dependence upon a cord. Built-in, rechargeable energy cells let you shave cordlessly. In case you forget to recharge, there is a cord. Plug it in. Shave on the spot. That makes you feel secure.

And you'll feel secure about your appearance, too. 348 cutting edges of durable high-carbon steel slice whiskers off cleanly. They're honed on an angle so that skin doesn't get ploughed up and irritated.

The LEKTRONIC II will give you a superiority complex. It has a big head. Shaving head, that is. 756 whisker-gathering slots feed whiskers to the cutters faster. Make short work of shaving.

Now here's the part masochists hate: the Roller Combs. They make shaving pure comfort. Roll skin down. Pop whiskers up into cutters, so they're stroked off gently.

What's the greatest Freudian benefit of the REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II?

IT MAKES YOU LOOK SEXY!

The LEKTRONIC II may cost a little more than most electric shavers. That's because it's worth more. LEKTRONIC: Trademark, Sperry Rand Corporation, REMINGTON ELECTRIC SHAYER, BRIDGEPORT, CONN

● HARVEY HARRISON RETURNS a volley in the Maryland-GW tennis match which the Buff netmen lost 5-4, although Harrison won his own match. Friday proved more satisfying, however, as GW crushed Richmond 9-0, remaining undefeated in Southern Conference play.

Buff Lose To Terps, Then Crush Spiders

● LAST WEDNESDAY a powerful Maryland Tennis team squeaked by the Colonials, 5-4. The undefeated Terps had a rough time overcoming GW, and the outcome was not decided until the last doubles match. It was no disgrace for the Buff for the Terps' undefeated season includes a victory over the University of North Carolina.

Buddy Goeltz, playing number one, surprised both teams by upsetting Jim Busick who was undefeated in match play, in straight sets. Buddy, playing flawless tennis, continually forced Busick into errors. At number two in singles Harvey Harrison with his powerful serve and net volley was too much for Gene Gelber. Again and again Harrison knocked the ball past him.

Steve Kahn showed some fine shooting but his opponent was sharper. Dan Singer, suffering from the dual handicaps of a bad fall and a broken racket kept the match going through three sets. The number five and six Terps outclassed their GW opponents. In the doubles Jerry Rudy and Harrison breezed by Busick and Gerber. Rudy and Harrison who are Southern Conference defending champions have lost only one match so far. Goeltz and Kahn defeated the second ranked doubles team fairly easily.

Last Friday the Colonials crushed Richmond 9-0 in two hours of play.

Hoyas and Colonials Tie 9-9

● THE COLONIALS were hampered by bad weather and darkness last week. They neither won nor postponed Monday's game with the Pittsburgh Panthers and darkness halted Thursday's game with the Hoyas of Georgetown.

The Colonials almost blew the Georgetown game altogether but fortunately for the Buff, the Hill-toppers were never able to grab the lead. GWU lost leads of 6-0 and 8-3 as all three George Washington pitchers lacked their good stuff.

Next week, the Colonials are slated to play two Southern Conference home games, one with VMI on Tuesday, April 28, and the other with Richmond, Saturday, May 2. Against VMI, the Colonials will be looking to get back into S.C. contention so the club's star right-hander Tony Romasco will undoubtedly get the assignment.

Alumni Game To Be Played On Saturday

● THE UNIVERSITY'S football team will end its spring practice next Saturday with the annual alumni game. The game, part of spring weekend events, will be played at Western High School. It will begin at 10 am.

Coach Camp has been drilling his 50 players at Columbia Island the past few weeks. He presently lists four freshmen in the starting lineup. They are Lou Astolfi, Don Coffman, Norm Neversen, and Gary Lyle. The team is the deepest by position that Coach Camp has had in his three years as head coach.

Playing for the alumni will be some of the seniors from last year's team captain, Dick Duenkel, mond, Merv Holland, and Jim Johnson in the backfield. Some of the linemen include John Hill, Art Gubitosa, Bo Henson, and last year's team captain, Dick Denkel. Star players from the past Colonial teams include Ellis Wisler, Dick Claypool, Andy Guida, Lon DiSimone, and Bill Pashe. Pashe is currently on the New York football Giants roster and is listed as a defensive back. He played both offense and defense for the Buff.

GW-GU Fight Sunday for City Lacrosse Title

● SUNDAY AFTERNOON, GW will meet GU at Georgetown to play for the Intercity Lacrosse Collegiate Championship.

This game promises to be the highlight on the city's lacrosse year, with both teams sporting to embellish their records with a victory over their chief antagonist.

GW's strong defense, which has been tested against many seasoned scoring machines in the Baltimore area headed by goalie Harold Sparck and defensemen Doug McNeill and Gary Transtrum, will be met by a potent Hoya attack headed by Mike O'Neil. The Buff's squad will be reinforced for the game by four returning football players: Al Kwinski, Ken Stajewski, and John and Bob Zier.

Last Sunday, GW with only ten men, managed to hold a far superior Baltimore Junior College team, which boasts two former All-Maryland stickmen, to a 5-1 victory.

Colonial Golfers Win Over Pitt And Hoyas

● THIS WEEK IN Golf GW added two more victories to their string giving them an 8-2 record for the season.

On April 20, the Colonials were matched against the University of Pittsburgh and defeated them 6-3. In the first foursome GW won 2-1 and won best ball 4-2 as Bob Haney won his match 6-5 while Bob Murphy lost to Pitt's Phil Abaray 3-2. The Buff won the second foursome 2 and 1 and won best ball 5-3.

GW's Chuck Collett defeated Jim Beloschak 7-5, and Pitt's Phil Fassett beat Colonial John Sherwood 3-1. Pitt won best ball on the third foursome but the Buff took the foursome 2-1; Dick Ham defeated Rick McBride of Pitt 2-0, and GW's Irv Dieterle defeated Frank Rosinzwing 3-1. The loss was Pitt's third one, and all have been on this trip.

At the Westwood Country Club on April 24, the Georgetown Hoyas played host to the GW Colonials, and lost 4-3. Bob Murphy defeated Hoya Tom Ryan 5-4; GW's Bob Haney was victorious over Al Fischer.

Chuck Collett won his match 7-5 and Dick Ham defeated George Kopley 5-3. Merrill Solomon was beaten 3-1. Irv Dieterle lost 2-1, and John Sherwood lost to Gillan of Georgetown.

This year the Colonials have bounced back after a poor season of 2-12 last year. The Buff have been in a lot of close games, as evidenced by their 4-2 victory over Georgetown on Friday.

GW is 3-1 in the Southern Conference. They defeated Davidson, The Citadel, and Virginia Tech, and lost to Furman in the Quadrangle Tourney, at Myrtle Beach.

Conference . . .

● CONFERENCE ACTION was spotty this week due to poor weather and scheduling. More golf was played than any other sport, but even at that only two league teams participated. On Monday GW defeated Pittsburgh 6-3, while Richmond had little trouble with Randolph-Macon 7-2 on Tuesday and even less trouble on Thursday with neighboring Richmond Professional Institute, 8½-½.

In tennis undefeated Maryland downed the league-leading Colonials 5-4, and VMI smashed arch-rival VPI 8-1.

There were only two baseball games involving Conference teams last week; Richmond shut out William and Mary 1-0, and GW played Georgetown to a rare 9-9 tie when the game was called after nine innings.

● COLONIALS TALLY AGAINST Georgetown at the Georgetown field on Thursday, April 23. Darkness halted the game which resulted in a 9-9 tie. The Pitt-GW game on Monday had been rained out.
